

ROOSEVELT URGES FEDERAL RELIEF OF NEEDY IN STATES UNABLE TO COPE WITH PROBLEM

'CRIME RAMPANT,' STURDIVANT OPENS WAR ON LAWLESS

Sale of Liquor Widespread, Vice Conditions Worst in Recent History, Says Police Chief, Blaming Depression.

CHEST TO BE ASKED TO HELP SITUATION

Chief Will Seek To Separate Hardened Criminals From Those Forced Into Vice by Economic Stress

Charging that in many sections of Atlanta liquor can be bought on every corner, and that vice conditions are worse now than in recent history, Police Chief T. O. Sturdivant Thursday said he planned to call upon the Community Chest and other relief organizations to "aid us in rehabilitating men and women forced into vice by the economic depression so we can turn our full strength to driving the criminal element from town."

Conditions in Atlanta were shown to be in line with the reports of the American Bar Association report which said in Thursday morning's Constitution that the prohibition laws had opened the door to rampant crime. "Because of the huge profits connected with organized bootlegging sales, the profits of prostitution and gambling, gangs flourish in every large city of the United States, with few exceptions," the report stated.

The chief said he would seek a conference with relief heads immediately in order to formulate plans for a drive which will remove "naturally decent persons from the streets and houses of ill repute."

During the last few weeks an unprecedented number of arrests have been made by a flying squad of vice raiders. Men and women have been taken into custody and are being held in the process of prosecution and in hundreds of cases have been convicted for "all the offenses" of vice.

Grim and hard-fisted when dealing with criminals, Chief Sturdivant was the generous-hearted man of state Thursday as he described two cases where wives and mothers were arrested.

"And there are others," he said, "where the father remains in a destitute home with the children while the mother earns a living, unlawfully." Some sell whisky, he said, while others seek whatever means of revenue a large city offers.

"Those are the people," he said, "who are most difficult to deal with. I know they have good traits and merely stepped aside in a human impulse for self-preservation."

The chief said he was greatly hampered by lack of funds for a special force such as vice raiders and "joint busters."

"But I'm not complaining," he said, "for I know that conditions are difficult. I'm trying to do the best I can."

He added that drinking and vice is confined to the "professionals," but asserted that young boys and girls are frequently arrested for drunkenness and other indiscretions. Whiskey, he said, is almost as common as "lip sticks and rouge boxes."

Matrons in the women's ward reported an almost intolerable increase in drinking and fighting among girls and women. More than 300 were arrested last month on charges ranging from drunkenness, petty theft, vagrancy and other offenses.

Driver Charged With Murder To Face Police Court Today

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Jones, young Atlanta couple, who were killed Wednesday night in an auto collision at Stewart avenue and Glenn street.

W. E. Ogburn, 41, 706 Lee street, to his home at 963 St. Charles avenue after he had attended a bridge party. Jones was killed instantly and Mrs. Jones died a short time after the accident at Grady hospital. Hedger's condition still was critical. Grady physicians reported.

The tragedy left the Jones' 6-year-old child, Barbara, an orphan. She was staying at the home of a neighbor during the bridge party.

Mr. Jones is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. W. Perry, of 1422 Athens avenue. Mrs. Jones is survived by her two aunts. The child is at the home of Mrs. Perry, where Thursday the grandmother said she will continue to live.

MANCHESTER PLEA REFUSED BY COURT

Condemned Slayer's Extraordinary Appeal for New Trial Rejected.

Earl Manchester, under death sentence for the insurance-plot murder of James Parks, young orphan printer, was denied a new trial for the second time by the Georgia supreme court in a decision Thursday.

The ruling was on an appeal from denial in Bibb superior court of an extraordinary motion for new trial in which new evidence was alleged.

The high court did not go into details of the claims of new evidence, merely ruling that they were insufficient to warrant a new trial.

Although commutation to life imprisonment was recommended for Manchester by a majority of the prison commission in January, 1932, Governor Russell, in a vigorous order, declined to concur and the extraordinary application for a new trial followed.

Manchester, a native of Rochester, Mich., was convicted in 1929 when he was 19 years old, along with Mrs. Sarah Powers, aged 30, of a rooming house where both he and Parks lived.

Both were sentenced to death. Mrs. Powers was an accessory before the fact on the allegation that she had instigated the crime by promising to pay Manchester $10,000 out of $14,000 insurance money on Parks' life.

Both appealed, and Mrs. Powers won a new trial at which she was given a life sentence instead of death. Manchester's appeal, however, was turned down. The extraordinary motion for new trial was filed after he was resentence to die. Mrs. Powers' term has been affirmed on appeal.

Manchester first was sentenced to electrocution August 11, 1929, but Governor Russell, who had taken office in the meantime, to grant an indefinite stay pending further study of the record. Since then the case has been held in abeyance by the extraordinary motion and the appeal on.

REPRIEVE GRANTED CONDEMNED YOUTH FOR SANITY TEST

Joe Groves Given 20-Day Respite on Eve of Execution; Claims Father Was Slayer of Deputy.

STATE PRISON FARM, MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Oct. 13.—Only a short time before he learned that he was insane, Governor Russell ordered two Milledgeville doctors to examine Groves.

Judge B. H. Dunaway, superintendent of the state prison farm, received the message over the telephone. Confirmation also came in a telegram a few minutes later.

Deputy Sheriff Walden, of Thomas county, one of the guards at Groves' cell, informed the condemned man of the action of the governor.

"That's good," said Groves. "Groves' countenance brightened up, but officers at the prison said that he was in no mood to talk. He had been reading a Bible and praying, they said."

It is expected that Groves will be returned to the jail in Thomassville Friday.

It was tonight that Groves told what he said was the "whole truth" for the first time concerning the slaying of the Thomas county deputy.

It was a brief but vivid story in which he protested his innocence and named his father as the actual slayer.

The father, officers explained, was arrested during the investigation and was being held in jail in Thomassville when he died last year.

"But if he could talk he'd tell you I'm telling the truth," he said.

Claiming He Was Away.

Groves, who is 24 years of age and, despite a several weeks' growth of beard, younger, said that he was visiting friends in North Carolina, about 17 miles from Sylva, on the day of the murder.

"Torture Prison" Escapes Caught in Decatur; Terror-Stricken Over Return to "Hell Hole"

BY ROY ROBERT.

Two "torture prison" convicts, trembling and cowed, but with desperation in their eyes, Thursday were waiting to start back on the grim trail to Jacksonville, Fla., to do the stripes they cast aside in their break from jail Sunday morning, following the testimony of one that Arthur Maillefert was tortured and killed in a prison sweat box.

Willing to recite the manner of their escape, the prisoners said a man claiming to be a minister came to their cell Thursday and handed them eight steel saws, saying, "I want you boys to get out of this hell-hole."

Captured in Decatur Thursday morning by DeKalb County Police-men C. B. Ford and P. N. Turner, Cleo Drew, 27, serving a 24-year sentence for a pay roll robbery, and James Wofford, 20, with 15 months yet to do for robbery, readily told officers the escaped convicts.

Notified of the capture, Sheriff W. B. Cahoon, of Duval county, Florida, arrived here Thursday night from Jacksonville. He immediately transferred the two prisoners from the DeKalb county jail to the Fulton tower, where they were kept overnight. Sheriff Cahoon said he intended to start for Jacksonville at 9 o'clock this morning.

Thursday the prisoners talked freely of their plight and hardships endured in getting to Atlanta, where the combination of a handsome automobile they had stolen and their dirty and disheveled appearance aroused suspicion in officers. Halted by the policemen, the men fled, only to be caught by the Fulton tower.

GOVERNOR FAVORS INSURANCE PLAN FOR EMPLOYMENT

Advocates Establishment of Community 'Nest Egg' To Provide for Public Works in Depressed Times.

Democratic Nominee Makes Appeal for Care of Jobless During Coming Winter.

Text of Roosevelt Address Will Be Found in Page 11

BY W. B. RAGSDALE.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt said tonight in a radio speech that the federal government was obligated to step in and help care for the unemployed "when it becomes apparent that states and communities are unable to take care of the necessary relief work."

Speaking in reply to a questionnaire sent him by ten welfare and social workers, the democratic presidential nominee laid down as his first relief principle that "the primary duty rests on the community, through local government and private agencies, to take care of the relief of unemployment."

"But we then come to a situation where there are so many people out of work that local funds are insufficient," he said.

"It seems clear to me that the organized society known as the state comes into the picture at this point. In other words, the obligation of government is extended to the next higher unit."

Relief in New York.

The New York governor told of how his state had dealt with the relief problem and said that where the state was unable to fulfill the obligation it "becomes the positive duty of the federal government to step in and help."

Regarding appropriations for public works, Mr. Roosevelt said "it would be advisable for governments of all kinds to set up in times of prosperity what might be called a nest egg to be used for public works in times of depression."

He said that in principle bonds should be issued for only such public works as would be a self-sustaining character.

"All public works—including federal—must be considered from the point of view of the ability of the government treasury to pay for them," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt said he proposed "to inaugurate a definite long-range plan for dealing with all phases of public health and welfare, which are a proper concern of the federal government."

Discussing public works, he set up for them the gauge that they should be "honestly essential to the community."

Ben Carlton Freed By Russell's Order

Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. Thursday committed to present service the two-to-three-year sentence of G. Ben Carlton, former secretary of the Atlanta fire department. Carlton pleaded guilty in September, 1931, to charges of embezzling trust funds of the War Between the States.

In a brief statement the governor said that Carlton's application for clemency had the endorsement of the trial judge, the solicitor-general, a large number of the members of the fire department who were losers because of the defalcations to which Carlton pleaded guilty. In addition, the chief executive said, Carlton is now in very poor condition and is unable to do manual labor.

'Nooga Mayor Challenges Key To New General-Texas Race

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 13.—Press dispatch from Atlanta describing the exploits of the Texas. The General, polished and groomed, occupies a place of honor in Chattanooga's Union station, being the property of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad. It was suggested that the race be between Big Shanty and Ringgold, Ga., the same as the one which occurred during the war.

Mayor Key could not be reached Thursday night concerning the matter, but sources close to him asserted that he would take the matter up immediately with his characteristic dispatch and attempt to arrange the interstate setto. The Texas is in the cyclorama building at Grant park. Key had not yet received Mayor Bass' challenge.

Gas Is Cut Two Cents By Five Big Companies

Five leading oil companies Thursday announced a decrease of 2 cents per gallon in the prices of gasoline at stations in the Atlanta area and within the corporate limits of the city of Decatur.

The companies—the Standard, the Gulf, the Sinclair and the Shell—fixed prices for regular gas at 19 cents instead of 21 cents and high-test fuel at 22 cents instead of 24 cents.

Guards Declare Maillefert Was Given Kind Treatment

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Arthur Maillefert, who died in a sweat box at Sunbeam prison camp last June, was dealt with in a fatherly way by one defendant and according to the Golden Rule by another, two former guards on trial for his murder told the jury today.

The defense rested its case after Solomon Higginbotham unshakably held to his story that he only knew Maillefert for about three days before the youth's death, had never been cruel to him nor threatened to kill him, and "didn't do anything to him I wouldn't have anyone do to me."

Higginbotham followed George W. Courson, acting captain at Sunbeam when Maillefert died, and who lost his composure and wiped a tear from his eye today as he said under cross-examination he would have given the boy his own food as Maillefert asked.

GERMAN ROLE IS HELD VITAL TO ARMS MEET

Herriot and MacDonald in Accord on Necessity of Participation.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—France and Great Britain, represented by the two premiers, agreed today it is essential to get Germany back into the world disarmament conference if that meeting is to achieve any constructive results.

All morning and up to late this evening Premier Herriot and Prime Minister MacDonald, with other officials of both governments, talked about disarmament at No. 10 Downing street. The discussion will be resumed tomorrow.

As often happens in such meetings as this, the official communiques gave little information. The statement issued this evening said merely that there had been a discussion which was to be resumed.

From other sources, however, it was learned they had agreed upon the necessity of Germany's participation in the Geneva meetings, and that the British government still believes Germany's claim to arms equality should be dealt with in a special four-power conference which Great Britain suggested some time ago.

Presumably this conference was under discussion today. The British suggestion originally was that England, France, Italy and Germany get together here to examine Germany's demands. Perhaps the United States would be asked to sit in as an observer.

MOST MISSIONARIES HELD INCOMPETENT TO HANDLE DUTIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The fourth instalment of the report of the appraisal commission of the laymen's foreign mission inquiry expresses the opinion that "the greater number" of missionaries are "of limited outlook and capacity."

The survey of the far eastern mission situation conducted by the inquiry was sponsored by seven Protestant denominations represented in the territory covered by more than 10,000 missionaries.

Today's instalment of the report asserts the missionary is prone to see his task as primarily that of promoting his own church organization.

"The trail of self-interest within the organization lies like the trail of the serpent over the missions of Asia within our purview," the report continues.

"Of the thousands of missionaries," the appraisal commission reports, "there are many of conspicuous power, true saintliness, and a sublime spirit of devotion; men and women in whose presence one feels himself at once exalted and unworthy."

"The greater number seem to us of limited outlook and capacity; and there are not a few whose vision of the inner meaning of the mission has become obscured by the intricacies, divisions, frictions and details of a task too great for their powers and their hearts."

The report states that on the whole the human side of the mission seems "unduly weak."

Atlanta Man Receives Check During Period of His Disability

Are you vaccinated?
Rather a dumb question in this day of enlightened medical science, when everyone recognizes the menace of the smallpox scourge and takes measures against it.
Are you insured?
That's a different matter, eh? Yet you must realize the seriousness of the threat to you personally and to every member of your family by the ever-growing accident wave.
Why take chances with your prosperity, with the comfort of your wife and children and with the future of your dependents?
The Atlanta Constitution has been offering an insurance feature service to its subscribers for about 12 years, and only about 10 per cent have taken advantage of this service; yet to this 10 per cent during this period there has been paid out over $150,000.

If 100 per cent of the subscribers had heeded the warnings of The Constitution and followed its advice, the amount paid out to the subscribers would possibly have been in excess of $1,500,000, and many of its readers and subscribers today would be in better financial shape if they had shown a little wisdom and foresight in securing protection.
There is hardly a day but what payments are made on account of accidents to some of its subscribers. On August 24, 1932, S. D. Caldwell, of Forrest avenue, Atlanta, Ga., was struck by another car at Forrest and Piedmont avenues, and was totally disabled for several weeks. On October 1 he received a check from the North American Accident Insurance Company for $45. This is only a sample of such payments being made through this office by the North

American Accident Insurance Company nearly every day.
The Constitution offers you "the famous travel accident policy" issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago. This insurance is offered to subscribers and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 69 on the one subscription going into that home at the small registration fee of $1 each per policy per year.
The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly inden-nity for total disability resulting from the accidents set forth in the policy.
All this for only $1 registration fee—just about 2 cents a week.
The policy is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. The reliability of this concern is proved by the fact that already more than $150,000 in cash has been paid on claims to Constitution policyholders.
This insurance is offered to old and new subscribers alike. One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.
Paid-in-advance mail subscribers can also have this insurance by paying the small registration fee of $1 in addition to the subscription price.
Those living in Atlanta and suburbs finding it inconvenient to pay the $1 registration fee in advance can pay 20 cents registration fee with the application and 20 cents five consecutive weeks thereafter in addition to the subscription price.
In sending application for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired, the full Christian name of the beneficiary must be given and relationship to the insured.

Chief Gives 4 Candidates for Force Lecture on Policing Prerequisites

Honesty, diligence, fair-play and obedience Thursday night were advanced as the cardinal requisites of a "good policeman" by Chief T. O. Sturdivant as he reaffirmed his stand that streets of Atlanta should not be used for parking after midnight and announced he is conducting an investigation of all dance halls with a view of seeing that they are conducted properly.

Sturdivant's lecture concerning the factors in successful policing came as the police committee of council had before it Walter F. Jones, Hiram F. Brown, Roy D. Scott and C. T. Sweatman, candidates for posts as super-numeraries. The men were elected by the committee following the lecture of the chief.

A good policeman is honest, he works hard and is diligent, he is fair and prosecutes instead of persecutes, and he obeys his superior officers and others in authority," Sturdivant said. "If you men can fill that bill, I'll back you to the limit."

TOO-ENTHUSIASTIC CELEBRATION LANDS TEN YOUTHS IN JAIL

The hot blood of 10 Tech High students, jubilant at the victory of their school over LaGrange High in Thursday night's football game here, was allowed to cool in a real "cooler" when they were arrested by police on charges of disorderly conduct after some 200 students staged a nightshirt parade through downtown Atlanta, according to police reports.

Police said the youths, all between the ages of 15 and 17 years, paraded down Peachtree street following the night football game which Tech High won by a score of 19 to 8. They rushed the stores, scattering goods hither and yon, and attempted to crash the gates of downtown theaters, according to police. Captain A. J. Holcombe gave the 10 boys a severe lecture, and put them behind bars for several hours.

You are just about to be elected on this department, and I want you to understand what is expected of you. Leave liquor alone."

The committee elected O. W. Allen, C. C. Brooks, Y. F. Geeslin and J. B. Harper, super-numeraries, to regular places on the force, and the super-numeraries named were to fill the posts thus vacated through elevation of the quartet.

In addition, the committee voted to back an ordinance to make the west side of Peters street from Forsyth to Leonard street one-hour parking. Councilman William M. Rogers, of the seventh ward, is proponent of the move to expedite the movement of vehicular traffic.

Serve with all poultry

THE reason Cranberry Sauce goes so well with all meats and poultry is the delicious sweet-tart flavor of the berry itself. It's at its best made this way—

"10-Minute" Cranberry Sauce
(Stewed Cranberries)

Boil 2 cups of water and 1 1/2 to 2 cups of sugar together 5 minutes, then add 4 cups Eatmor Cranberries. Boil without stirring (5 minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins pop open. Remove from fire when the popping stops, and allow the sauce to remain in vessel undisturbed until cool.

We will gladly mail to you free our new Eatmor Cranberry recipe book.

CHURCH BUDGET CUT BY UNITED LUTHERANS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A reduction of $400,000 in the annual budget of the United Lutheran Church in America was approved today by delegates to the church's biennial convention, after prolonged and spirited opposition.

Acting on a recommendation of the executive board of the organization, the convention voted to reduce the yearly budget for the next three years from $2,400,000 to $2,000,000. The former figures had been fixed at the Milwaukee convention in 1930 but this action was rescinded today.

CURRENCY EXPANSION ADVOCATED BY BORAH

Idahoan Urges Restoration of Silver as World Purchasing Medium.

MALAD, Idaho, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Expansion of currency, restoration of silver as a world purchasing medium and governmental economy were advocated by Senator William E. Borah in an address here last night in which he criticized the attitude of members of both major political parties toward public expenditures.

The Idaho republican made no direct mention of any presidential candidate in the present campaign. He said, in discussing taxes and governmental costs: "When it comes to expending public money, you cannot tell republicans from democrats."

Demands for payment in full of the soldiers' bonus were assailed by the senator. He added that these demands were "only a part of a vast system of bureaucratic extravagance."

Borah declared expansion of currency was necessary "to give the American people a medium of circulation to replace that in hoarding." Recalling the amendment to the home loan bill advocated by him at the last session of congress, which he said was a currency expansion measure, he charged the proposal was opposed by eastern senators who finally agreed to its passage "only because they wanted to go home and we could have stopped them." The senator claimed

DYING BOY'S WORDS GIVE KILLING CLUE

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The mumbled words of a dying boy today led police to believe they may have been the motive for the slaying of Mrs. Nellie Tressler, 28, her mother, Mrs. Amanda Har- den, 62, and Mrs. Tressler's daughter, Sadie, 12.

They were clubbed to death in their home Tuesday night. Sadie died in Connellsville State hospital.

Billy, 9, Mrs. Tressler's son, cannot live, physicians say.

Early today he rallied and told investigators that Philip Renda, 60; George Lohr, 30, and a third man whom police declined to name, were in the Tressler home Tuesday night when he went to bed. The unnamed man is married, police say. All will be questioned.

This simple Flavor-Test proves "BAKED-IN" FLAVOR BREAD IS BETTER

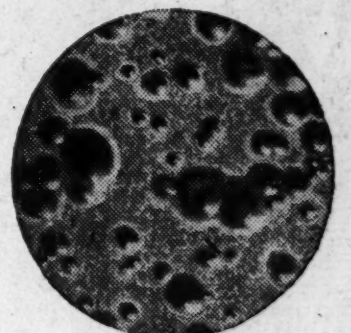

This photograph shows an interesting bread flavor-test which you can make among your friends. Wrap a loaf of Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread (X) and two brands of ordinary bread (Y and Z) in plain paper. Wrap slices for the plates and mark them similarly. Have each of your friends make this simple taste-test for flavor and cast her vote. We are delighted to be able to say that in many similar tests a large majority of housewives have voted for Baked-in Flavor Bread.

You can make this test any day in your own kitchen. Take a slice from a loaf of Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread and a slice of any two brands of ordinary bread sold at the same price. Take a bite of crumb from each of the slices, testing one at a time. Chew and taste thoroughly. Then you'll know how much better Baked-in Flavor Bread really is!

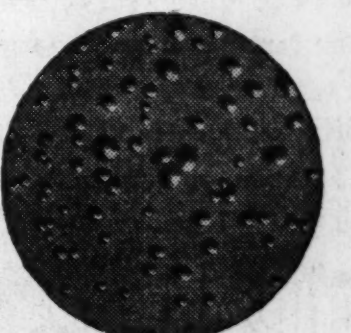

WHEN you buy bread, you select the loaf which you believe to have the best flavor and texture, the loaf that is freshest. When you select Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread you may be sure it is fresh because it is baked twice a day and rushed to your grocer by fast delivery. You may be sure this satin-textured loaf will stay fresh longer than coarse textured breads. You may be sure that it will taste better because the rich, elusive flavors which ordinarily escape from bread during the baking process are "baked-in" and retained for you in this golden loaf. You may be sure that the slices will toast better and taste better after they're toasted! Why not try Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread today? Why not test it and find out for yourself how much more flavorful it is? Then you won't have to take our word for it—you'll know that Merita Baked-in Flavor is better! And you'll keep it at the top of your marketing list of good things to eat!

WHAT "BAKED-IN" FLAVOR MEANS

Above is an illustration of what you would see if you were to examine the top of an ordinary loaf of bread under the microscope while it is being baked. Here the microscope has revealed the large irregular air bubbles which allow elusive flavors to bake out and escape. Much of the flavorful goodness of ordinary bread is thus baked away and the texture of the bread is left coarse and full of large holes.

Here is a view of a section of the top of a Merita Baked-in Flavor loaf as it would appear under the microscope while it is being baked. Notice particularly the bubbles. They are much smaller and of more uniform size than those on the ordinary loaf. It is the small bubbles that keep Merita flavor from escaping and give Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread its satin-smooth texture and make it keep fresh longer than coarse textured breads.

HARBIN, Manchuria, Oct. 13.—(AP)—An infuriated crowd last night lynched the Chinese bandit accused of killing Mrs. C. T. Woodruff, an Englishwoman, yesterday, as she tried to prevent the kidnapping of her three children.

The bandit was strung up on a tree where the kidnapping occurred. Later his head was cut off and stuck upon a pole as an example.

JAPANESE NEAR CITY HOLDING MISSIONARIES

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Japanese and Manchukuo troops, in their drive against 30,000 Chinese insurgents in the Tungpian district, came today within 10 miles of Fushin, where seven American Catholic missionaries are established.

Scrupulous care was taken not to harm the Americans, however, the military reports said, as the insurgents were driven out of their first, second and third-line defenses.

TERRIBLE CONDITIONS CONFRONT CHINESE MEN

NANKING, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A grim statement, disclosing terrible conditions expected to prevail among the Chinese military forces in Manchuria during the coming winter, was issued by the war office of the national government today.

The statement said 300,000 volunteer troops who are opposing the Japanese military forces in the three provinces "face death either from starvation, exposure or at the hands of the Japanese troops during the bitter weather which already is beginning."

The Chinese forces, it said, "who refuse to accept Japanese domination

Will Terms Send Dog To Death With Owner

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Logan, a bird dog, has followed his mistress in death, as she provided in her will.

Mrs. Pearl Neal Lang, who owned Logan during his 16 years of life, died last week, and Tuesday following the terms of her will, friends put the dog to death and buried it after a funeral attended by friends of the Lang family.

The dog's grave will be cared for by a negro boy frequently befriended by Mrs. Lang and her husband, before his death several months ago. "After Charles (her husband) died," Mrs. Lang's will recited, "I loved Logan better than anything on earth. He is 16 years old and might fall into unkind hands. He never has been separated from us. He never will be."

Her will included among other bequests $200 for caring for the graves of herself, husband and dog.

Louisiana Dry Fails In Effort to Bar Vote

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Attorneys for Dr. W. Y. Millikan, Baton Rouge prohibitionist who was granted an injunction last Tuesday restraining the secretary of state from distributing state prohibition law repeal referendum ballots, conditioned upon his posting $6,000 bond, today announced the bond would not be posted but that other legal action would be taken later.

The attorneys indicated that the same legal points under which District Judge George K. Fayot granted the injunction against Secretary of State E. A. Conway in East Baton Rouge court would be followed in suing to prohibit Conway from promulgating the referendum returns following the general election November 8.

Unless some other litigation develops, the Louisiana electorate will vote at the general election on whether the Flood act, state's prohibition law, should be stricken from or retained upon the statute books.

McCuen's Dismissal Suggested by Walsh

Senator Says Secretary of Power Commission Active in Politics.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Dismissal of Joseph R. McCuen, secretary of the federal power commission, was suggested Wednesday by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, because of political activity attributed to the secretary by him.

"It may be of consequence," Walsh told an "openmen," those who take an interest in the civil service commission that the executive secretary of the federal power commission is reported absent on leave and working on the force of the republican national committee in New York headquarters.

"The position he holds in the public service is . . . a place that gives its occupant a more or less commanding influence in connection with important duties devolving upon the commission."

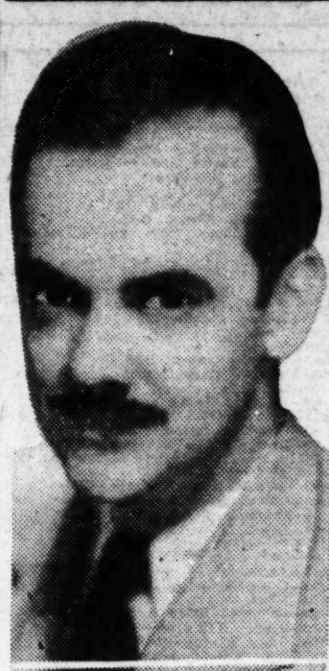

"It is to be expected that the commission, already under the scrutinizing eye of the public, will carefully consider whether the secretary's leave ought not to be extended indefinitely."

Informed of this statement, Ralph B. Williamson, acting chairman of the commission, said McCuen applied on September 3 for a furlough without pay until November 5, which was granted by George Otis Smith, the chairman.

DE VALERA IN LONDON FOR ECONOMIC PARLEY

Formal Conversations on Land Annuities Will Be Resumed.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Without a smile for the crowd at the station, Eamon De Valera, looking even graver than usual, arrived from Dublin this evening for an economic peace parley tomorrow with the leaders of the British government.

Malcolm MacDonald, the prime minister's son, and J. H. Thomas, secretary for dominions, were in the official delegation which met him. Mr. Thomas chatted with the Free State president in his compartment for a few minutes, then they all drove off together to a hotel. Formal conversations will begin tomorrow morning.

As the party walked through the station police held back a crowd of Irish well-wishers, and some women were heard to scream, "Off with British chains!" and "Take the British troops out of Ireland!"

Mr. De Valera, who will be 50 years old tomorrow, has come to resume negotiations regarding the trade war which began between England and the Free State when Mr. De Valera's government refused to remit the Irish land annuities.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Police and a medical examiner disagreed today over the death of socially prominent William N. Haskell III.

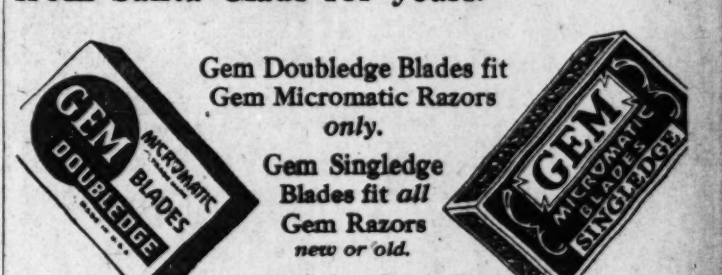

Haskell, son of the commander of the New York national guard and recently the fiancé of Miss Eleanor Gould, great-granddaughter of the late Jay Gould, financier, was killed by a bullet in his family's Park avenue apartment last night.

Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales, deputy chief medical examiner, said it was

NEW COMMITTEE TO MAKE DECISION ON BERRIEN FIGHT

Members of the new state democratic executive committee will meet in Atlanta at 10 o'clock next Wednesday for the dual purpose of organizing and hearing a local contest over the legislative seat from Berrien county, Hugh Howell, chairman, announced Thursday.

Howell said he would make public sometime today the names of the new members of the committee from the state at large. Those from the ten congressional districts were chosen at the recent Macon convention.

The Berrien legislative contest is between J. P. Knight and J. Henry Gaskins. The local committee has ruled Knight to be the nominee and Gaskins has indicated his intention of appealing to the state committee. Although no others have been filed, the committee will pass upon all other contests at the next meeting, in order that the names of candidates may be certified for printing on the ballots.

Plans to have a long list of Fulton county contributors to the democratic national campaign fund ready for inspection by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt when he visits Atlanta soon will be discussed at a conference of leaders to be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the office of Ryburn G. Clay, president of the Fulton National bank, who is state director of finance for the committee.

Henry C. Heinz, appointed by Mr. Clay as county chairman, will preside at the meeting. Substantial progress has been made in the Fulton county drive and efforts to wind up the work successfully before the arrival of the presidential candidate will be made.

The state-wide quota fixed by the national committee is $30,000 and it is the hope of Mr. Clay as well as Charles B. Shelton, Georgia state chairman of the Roosevelt Business and Professional League, to raise more than this sum. Many of the associate directors of finance, working under the direction of Mr. Clay and the judicial circuit chairman working under the direction of Mr. Shelton have assured that they would strive to go over the top before the arrival of Governor Roosevelt.

Contributions may be sent by mail to Mr. Heinz at the central office of the Citizens and Southern National bank, Chandler building, to Mr. Clay, at the Fulton National bank, or to headquarters of the woman's division under the direction of Mrs. Edgar Alexander in rooms 440-442 Piedmont hotel.

THREE MEALS A DAY

KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES

SHIFT GEARS TO FALL VEGETABLES.
Practically all of the summer and early fall vegetables are gone now, and it behooves the home-maker to utilize the late fall ones to best advantage when planning menus for the family.

Typical fall vegetables are squash, cabbage, onions, turnips, beets, late carrots, egg plant.

Instead of the quick-cooking and small amount of water used to prepare almost any one of the summer vegetables, we now come to a group that requires longer cooking and larger amounts of water. This does not mean, however, that the water in which these fall vegetables are cooked should be discarded, for it contains as much mineral deposit as the water in which summer vegetables were cooked.

The thrifty homemaker will have a convenient pot available into which she will pour the water from these vegetables, and in which she may simmer a soup bone or two, and make delicious soup for the first few evenings of the fall.

Soup is stimulating, appetite-provoking, and mineral-providing when made with the vegetable water as suggested. Water in which potatoes are cooked should also be used. Cabbage water makes delicious soup, especially when any left-over cabbage is added to it, and the whole thing cooked with a small piece of corned beef, or even with a shank bone.

Another method often used for cooking the fall vegetables for the greatest amount of food value retention is baking. Any of the vegetables mentioned at the beginning of this article may be baked in the oven successfully, or scalloped.

Creamed Cauliflower Greens.
One of the newest wrinkles in cafeteria and restaurant service is the serving of creamed cauliflower greens. These fibrous, leafy outer coverings on cauliflower are usually thrown away, but they may be carefully washed, cut up like celery would be for chop suey, and simmered or boiled in a moderate amount of water. They are then highly seasoned and creamed, and are really delicious.

Baked Squash.
Cut pieces about 3 inches wide and 5 inches long. Remove seeds, but not peeling. Place the slices in a dripping pan, shallow if possible, brush each piece with melted butter or melted bacon fat, sprinkle very lightly with brown sugar and bake in moderate 375-degree oven till tender. Serve very hot on a platter, and with it serve a little butter sauce. Sprinkle each piece with salt and pepper.

Baconed Squash.
To use up left-over baked squash, remove it from the shells, mash and season with salt, pepper, milk and butter or bacon fat. Place in a greased baking dish. Cover with this layer of cracker crumbs and fine bread crumbs, and with small pieces of bacon arranged close together. Bake in hot oven 450 degrees till bacon is crisp and brown.

Mashed Squash.
Cut Hubbard squashes in halves or quarters, depending on size. Scoop the seeds out. Place in pie pans and bake in moderate oven till done. Scoop the squash out from the shells, place in a saucepan. Return to fire, add one-half cup good cream, a lump of butter, season with salt and pepper, and a little honey or brown sugar. Let it cook up well, and serve.

Diced Turnips.
Pare and slice turnips, cut in dice half-inch square. Boil till about tender in small amount of water. To each quart of diced turnips, add 1 tablespoon sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt. As soon as the water is practically all boiled off the turnips, add 3 tablespoons cream, 1 beaten egg, stir, serve at once.

And Now for Halloween.
From ancient time comes the festival of Halloween, All Saints' Day, when bonfires were lighted, and belief in ghosts was very real. The Druids held vigils in honor of the Lord of Death, and actually believed that any one who died during the last 12 months might return to earth on this night, in ghostly form.

Menu.
Jack o' Lantern salad, baked ham, stuffed sweet potatoes, green beans, pumpkin pie, cheese crackers, horseradish sauce, celery, rolls, coffee.

As a centerpiece, use a round pumpkin, cut on each side so as to form a bucket handle. Scoop out membrane and seeds, polish the outside with flannel, and fill with autumnal fruit, wreath with foliage.

Jack o' Lantern Salad.
Place half a canned peach on lettuce, hollow side down. The hollow may be first filled with a ball of cottage, or cream cheese if you wish. Stick two cloves into the peach for eyes. For the nose, use a triangular piece of cucumber, or red apple peeling, add a long piece of the same for a mouth. This makes a Jack o' Lantern face on the peach. Serve with French dressing.

Stuffed Sweet Potatoes.
Cut baked sweet potatoes in half, lengthwise. Very carefully scoop out the centers, so as not to break the shells. Mash, season with salt, butter, and a little rich milk or cream. Add a few marshmallows, cut into small pieces. Refill shells. Place a whole marshmallow on top of each, and return to oven just long enough to brown the marshmallows. Serve at once.

Pumpkin Pie.
One cup pumpkin or squash, 1 cup cream, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, 3-4 teaspoons ginger, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 3-4 teaspoon salt.

Beat eggs slightly, add sugar and cream. Add this mixture to pumpkin, which has been previously mixed with the spices and flavoring. Line a deep pie-plate with pastry. Brush over with a little white of egg, beaten slightly, and sprinkle with stale bread-crumbs. Fill and bake in a moderate oven. Top with whipped cream, if desired.

Clever New Georgia Sweet Potato Dishes for Growns-Ups—And for Growing-Up, Too.

Stuffed Georgia Sweet Potatoes.
Three even-sized sweet potatoes, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1-2 cup drained crushed pineapple, 4 marshmallows.

Bake potatoes, cut in halves, scoop out most of the contents. Mash thoroughly, season with butter, salt, cream, add pineapple. Fill the shells with marshmallows and stuff with crushed pineapple. Place one on top of each half potato. Bake with pineapple juice rapidly boiled for a moment. Brown under broiler flame. Serves six.

Sweet Potatoes With Apples.
Three medium-sized sweet potatoes, 4 medium-sized apples, 1-2 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons butter.

Wash the sweet potatoes and cook in the skins in boiling water. Cool and peel. Cut the potatoes and raw apples in slices. Place in alternate layers in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle sugar over each layer and dot with butter. Add a little water and bake until apples and sweet potatoes are soft and brown on top.

Grated Sweet Potato Pudding.
Four eggs, 2 cups sweet milk, 1 quart ground sweet potatoes, 1 cup sugar, 1-4 cup butter, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Beat eggs without separating until well mixed, add the milk and stir. Mix spices and sugar with the sweet potato, add the melted butter and mix with the eggs and milk. Pour into a well-buttered pudding pan. Bake one hour in a moderate oven. Stir occasionally as the potato browns on the sides and top. The pudding should be grainy and nutty. Serve plain or with a sauce or whipped cream. If cooked in a steamer or fireless cooker, no stirring is necessary.

Ham Smothered With Sweet Potatoes.
One slice ham, 2 sweet potatoes, sliced (boil until almost tender); 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup hot water.

Brown the ham slightly on both sides and place in a baking dish. Spread the hot water to the dripping, pour over the ham and sweet potatoes, cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until the ham is tender. Baste occasionally with the gravy, toward the last remove the lid and let the top brown.

Sweet Potato Croquettes.
Two cups mashed potato, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup chopped nuts, 1-4 teaspoon cayenne, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, 1 egg (beaten), bread crumbs. Mix in order given. Make into croquettes. Roll in bread crumbs, then in beaten eggs and again in bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat.

HOOVER'S WEARINESS CLOSES RECEPTION

Dr. Boone Advises President To Quit Handshaking at Bar Fete.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(UP)—President Hoover was forced by fatigue tonight to discontinue his reception with Mrs. Hoover of some 5,000 guests who thronged into the White House at the first formal function of the fall season.

The president had received over 3,000 persons when his personal physician called a halt. He and Mrs. Hoover had been standing in the blue room since shortly after 9 p. m.

Without cessation, for an hour and 40 minutes, they shook hands and smiled at each guest. It was the greatest reception, attaches said, in recent history at the White House. Upwards of 5,000 persons attended but nearly 2,000 failed to shake hands with the president.

Shortly before 11 p. m. Captain Joel T. Boone, U. S. N., White House physician, conferred with White

W. L. LOVE, ARCHITECT, EX-ATLANTA, PASSES
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 13.—W. L. Love, 44, architect connected with the firm of R. H. Hunt Co. here, and a native of Atlanta, died today. Funeral will be held in Atlanta Saturday. He was the son of W. A. Love, formerly of Atlanta.

House attaches and stopped the receiving line.

"We noticed the president was tiring," Dr. Boone told the United Press. "He is in perfect physical condition."

"However, the strain proved too great. He could have gone on—but it would not have been wise," Dr. Boone said. "I counseled that the line be stopped."

"His hand was bruised from the handclaps of more than 3,000 men and women. Rings pressed into the flesh as vigorous handclaps rung the president's fingers. He wanted to go on, but we asked him to stop and finally he did."

RECEIVERSHIP OFFER REFUSED BY AL SMITH

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Sun said Wednesday it had learned Alfred E. Smith was the first choice of the court for the job of receiver for the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and that, although the former governor once accepted, he withdrew at the last minute, saying he was reluctant to give up his other affairs.

The position, which the Sun says is the largest receivership in New York in many years, was finally given to former Justice Victor J. Dowling and Thomas E. Murray.

-dragging feet? yes— just a sign of that "tired feeling"

—a "run-down condition" where a tonic is needed... then pause and reason what may be the cause of this condition. Can't Find Words To Express Her Thanks, She Says

From Suffering and Despair to Health and Happiness.

Think of a medicine that is so strengthening and invigorating that it seems to pick you right up and put you back on your feet from the first few doses! Such a medicine is Sargol. Mrs. K. M. London, 36 N. W. 33rd St., Miami, says: "I can't find words to express my gratitude. Sargol has transformed me from suffering and despair to health and happiness and I've more strength, energy and rheumatism than I've known in years. I suffered misery with stomach trouble, and my heart would palpitate so wildly I thought I had serious heart trouble. I took all kinds of medicines and treatments without benefit, and I never hoped of ever being well. I haven't an ache or pain in my body. My bowels have been regulated perfectly by Sargol Pills. I'm like a new woman." Cases like this, and there are thousands of them, explain why Sargol is called "the medicine with a million friends." Jacobs Pharmacy.—(adv.)

ARTHRITIS SUFFERER FINDS EFFECTIVE TREATMENT

A retired business man of Pasadena, who had been unable to walk for more than three years as the result of Arthritis (stiff joints), reports that he finally secured a prescription which not only brought him freedom from pain, but restored him to a life of normal activity. He then applied the formula to a number of others who were afflicted with ailments resulting from excessive uric acid, such as Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago, Gout, Sciatica and various other forms of Rheumatism, and they too reported their first relief. Renton's Hydrocin Tablets are prescribed by many physicians and endorsed by the leading druggists. No matter what other treatments you have taken or how badly you have suffered from any form of Rheumatism caused by excessive uric acid, you should give Renton's Hydrocin Tablets a trial. Just send name and address to Renton, Desk AR, Pasadena, Calif., or ask any Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., Lane Drug Store or neighborhood druggist. Do this today.—(adv.)

PILES

Ended Without Cutting or Salves

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonard found the cause of Piles to be internal—congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby; the bowel walls weak; the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real, internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay. Jacobs drug stores and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed.—(adv.)

16 WORKMEN INJURED IN HUMAN AVALANCHE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(AP)—An inky blackness, a human avalanche plunged down a steeply inclined steel tube segment of the Los Angeles aqueduct, 150 miles north of here, today and 16 workmen were injured, some seriously.

Nine feet in diameter, the tube is a siphon in the aqueduct at Grapevine canyon—a wild and lonely spot. The men were strung out down the first hundred feet on the 900-foot slope. Chipping and scraping the slippery interior of the siphon. A man at the top slipped and fell. He struck the next man below, the lights went out and the avalanche started. Sharp tools mixed with the shouting, struggling mass of men as they slid to the bottom.

France To Bestow Citation Today On Professor Goodyear, of Emory

Professor Nolen A. Goodyear, of the French department of Emory University, will be decorated by the government of France at the chapel services at 10 o'clock this morning in the Glenn Memorial auditorium when the citation of "Officier d'Académie" will be bestowed upon him for his work at Emory.

The decoration will be bestowed by Charles Lorians, French consul here. It will be accompanied by a certificate of laudation signed by A. de Monnier, French minister of public instruction and fine arts.

Following the ceremony, Dr. Theodore Jack will make an address on "International Friendship." Napoleon originally decreed the decoration in 1808 as an honor for persons intimately connected with higher education in France, according to Mr. Lorians. The French government later modified the decree so that the title "Officier d'Académie" might be given to foreigners of exceptional attainments in educational work.

His distinction has been well deserved by Professor Goodyear for his indefatigable efforts and for the great success that he has had in putting the study of the French language and literature on such a high plane at Emory University," said Mr. Lorians in a letter communicating to Emory officials the fact that the decoration had been conferred.

Professor Goodyear is the author of "Tableau Synoptique des Verbes Français" and of two books of readings in French literature, all of which are in wide use as college textbooks. He holds the A. B. and A. M. degrees from Emory, has done further postgraduate work at Harvard and the University of Chicago, and studied at Grenoble, France, in 1913-14, receiving his "Certificat d'Etudes Françaises." The Emory teacher is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity and is president of the Emory chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, honorary romance language societies.

As chairman of the Emory debate council, Professor Goodyear has been responsible for the international debate at Emory in recent years with teams from leading English universities.

Officers re-elected by Catholic Women

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 13.—The National Council of Catholic Women re-elected all its officers at the closing session of its five-day conference here Wednesday.

It also adopted resolutions calling for greater efforts toward world peace, disarmament, relief for unemployed, more lenient immigration regulations, here separation of families is involved and a general return to Christian idealism.

Another resolution condemned anti-Catholic activities in Mexico and Spain, citing recent Mexican troubles as "a cruel insult to our holy father."

Officers re-elected are Miss Mary G. Hawks, New York, president; Mrs. George V. McIntyre, of Chicago, first vice president; Mrs. Harry J. Keyser, of Milwaukee, second vice president; Mrs. Harry A. Laberge, Portland, Ore., third vice president; Mrs. R. K. Lebond, of Cincinnati, treasurer; Miss Anne S. Hooley, St. Louis, secretary. Two new directors, Miss Katherine Williams, of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Thomas P. Ryan, St. Paul, were added.

Racketeer Is Accused
In Rothstein Slaying

SALINAS, Cal., Oct. 13.—(UP)—The Salinas Times today carried a copyrighted story today saying that Harold Leo Kirk, 22, under arrest here, had confessed to Sheriff Carl Abbott that Al Moore, whom he described as a "big shot" New York liquor racketeer, killed Arnold Rothstein, notorious New York gambler, on the night of November 4, 1928.

Kirk, according to the Jones-Journal, told the sheriff he drove Moore, in the latter's armored car, to the hotel where Rothstein was slain. He gave the sheriff a detailed, eye-witness account of the slaying, the newspaper said, adding that the complete text had been telegraphed to New York police.

"Smilin' Through" Opens
Run at Grand Today

"Smilin' Through," delightful stage play of some seasons ago, comes to Loew's new Grand theater today in its screen version, for an engagement of one week. It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, booked under the exclusive run contract by which it can never be shown in any other Atlanta theater.

Norma Shearer is the lovely heroine in this tender romance, while the supporting cast, one of the most remarkable ever gathered for one picture, includes Fredric March, Leslie Howard, O. P. Heggie, Ralph Forbes, Beryl Mercer, David Torrence, etc. Sidney Franklin was the director.

Reports from cities where the picture has been shown are extravagant in their praise, particularly of the manner in which the screen version retains the fragile beauty of the stage play, a quality which was largely responsible for its success. A splendid group of short screen subjects have been secured to complete the new program.

4 HELD AS SUSPECTS IN HUGE BOND THEFT

CLEVELAND, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Four men were being held by detectives today as suspects in efforts to dispose of a $1,000,000 bond and stock theft in New York.

One of the men was from Detroit, one from North East, Pa., and two from Cleveland. Detectives withheld their names.

Private detectives who had been working on the case several months said they traced the Detroit man here yesterday from New York and that he met a Cleveland bootlegger. Together they set out to dispose of $32,000 of the securities, most of which were in public utilities. They were arrested at a downtown street corner and later another Cleveland man and the man from North East were apprehended.

Government Approves Navigation Lock Plans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Plans have been approved by the war department for a navigation lock to be constructed at Dam No. 3 near Florence, Ala., on the Tennessee river. Advertisements for bids will be published Saturday at the district engineer's office in Chattanooga.

Dam No. 3 and the lock together would cost approximately $8,500,000, but it was explained at the department that the funds made available from the emergency relief appropriation are not sufficient to build the dam and only the navigation lock will be advertised at this time.

Text of Roosevelt Address On Unemployment Relief

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's speech Thursday night follows:

I am speaking to you from my desk in the executive mansion in Albany on a subject which is not in the narrower sense of the word political but which, because it is connected with government, vitally affects the lives of almost every man, woman and child in the United States.

I cannot, of course, answer the hundreds of questions which come to me in every mail, but a letter signed by 10 of the leading social welfare workers permits me to use their questions as a text for the expression of certain great basic principles which are vital to us in this time of stress.

The first question asks my position in relation to the duty of the federal and state and local governments to provide funds and aid for the relief of those who are out of work.

The problem therein outlined is one which is very real in every section of the country as I have good reason to know. This was accentuated by what I saw and heard on my recent trip to the Pacific coast.

GOVERNMENT OWES DEBT OF AID TO SUFFERING.

Let me answer it by laying down what I believe to be certain cardinal principles. In the first place even in an ideal community where no one is out of work, there would always be the need of welfare work conducted through the churches, through private charity and by local governments—the need for clinics and hospitals and vocational training, the need for the care of the aged, for care of mental cases and for care of the crippled.

Where there is no unemployment, there are always some unemployed—people who want to work but can find no work. The first principle I would lay down is that the primary duty rests on the community, through local government and private agencies, to take care of the relief of unemployment. But we then come to a situation where there is a large number out of work that local funds are insufficient. It seems clear to me that the organized society known as the state comes into the picture at this point. In other words, the obligation of government is extended to the next higher unit.

I practice what I preach. In 1920 the state of New York greatly increased its employment service and kept in close touch with the ability of localities to take care of their own unemployed. But the summer of 1931 it became apparent to me that actual state funds and a state-supervised system were imperative. I called a special session of the legislature and they appropriated a fund of $20,000,000 for unemployment relief, this fund to be reimbursed to the state through the doubling of our income taxes. Thus, the state of New York became the first among all the states to accept the definite obligation of supplementing local funds where these local funds were insufficient.

STATE IS CREATED BY ITS CITIZENS.

The administration of this great work has become a model for the rest of the country. Without setting up any complex machinery or any large overhead, the state of New York is working successfully through local agencies, and in spite of the fact that over a million people are out of work and in need of aid in this one state alone, we have so far met at least the bare necessities of the case. This past spring the legislature appropriated another $5,000,000 and on November 8 the voters will pass on a $30,000,000 bond issue to tide us over this winter and at least up to next summer.

Stopped Her Asthma Troubles Entirely

"I suffered 18 years with asthma," says Mrs. L. R. Milstead, 1408 Euclid Ave., Kansas City, Mo. "Finally, I was so weak and my breathing was so bad I couldn't walk across the room. I started taking Nacor in November, 1928. At once I began to improve, my weight increased, the cough and asthma stopped and I was able to do my housework again. The benefit was lasting, and I can still say (May, 1931) I have no sign of asthma."

Find out how thousands have found lasting relief. Their letters and other vital information will be sent free. Write to Nacor Medicine Co., 641 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.—(adv.)

Yeast, Iron and Copper

One of radio's most popular juvenile stars is back on the air after a breakdown brought on by flu and scarlet fever. She is little Julia Brown, eleven years old member of the Sunshine Four.

"The flu was terrible enough," said Julia's mother, Mrs. M. M. Brown, 7020 Avenue F, Houston, Texas, "but when the scarlet fever finished with Julia I looked like she would never recover her strength again. She had no appetite, was too frail and weak to play with other children, and continued so pale and anemic I was alarmed about her.

After trying for several weeks to get her built up I put her on this new yeast vitamins, copper and iron treatment. Thor's Vitamin Compound, and I feel so grateful for the remarkable way it restored her I wish I could tell everyone about it. In one week her improvement was marvelous, and in two weeks she was like a different child. She is now just full of life and energy, has fine appetite, and splendid color in her face. She plays and romps without stopping, and has gained in weight. All our neighbors want to know what has brought about this wonderful change and I am glad to tell them it was Thor's Vitamin Compound."

Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast vitamins, iron and copper is sold by all good druggists for only fifty cents and is positively guaranteed to bring a gratifying improvement in one week, or money refunded.—(adv.)

ernment treasuries, whether local or state or federal, are hard put to it to keep their budgets balanced, and in the case of the federal treasury thoroughly unsound financial policies have made its situation not exactly desperate but at least threatening to future stability if the policies of the present administration are continued. All public works—including federal—must be considered from the point of view of the ability of the government treasury to pay for them. There are two ways of paying for public works. One is by the sale of bonds. In principle such bonds should be issued only to pay for self-sustaining projects or for structures which will, without question, have a useful life over a long period of years. The other method of payment is from current revenues, which in these days means in most cases added taxes. And we all know that there is a very definite limit to the increase of taxes above the present level.

FAVORS INSURANCE AGAINST UNEMPLOYMENT.

The other type is that of public works which are honestly essential to the community. Each case must rest on its own merits. It is impossible, for example, to say that all parks or all playgrounds are essential. One may be and another may not be.

If a school, for instance, has no playground, it is obvious that the furnishing of a playground is a necessity to the community. But if the school already has a playground and some people seek merely to enlarge it, there may be a very definite question as to how necessary that enlargement is. Let me cite another example.

In providing better housing accommodations for the poor in our great cities. If a slum area can be torn down and replaced by modern buildings put up, I should call that almost a human necessity, but on the other hand the mere erection of new buildings in some other part of the city while allowing the slums to remain raises at once a question of necessity. I am confident that the federal government, working in co-operation with states and cities, can do much to carry on increased public works and along lines which are sound from the economic and financial point of view.

Now, I come to another question. I am asked whether I favor a system of unemployment insurance reserves made compulsory by the states and supplemented by a system of federally co-ordinated state employment offices to facilitate the re-employment of the jobless workers.

The first part of the question is directly answered by the democratic platform which advocates unemployment insurance under the new law. This is no new policy for me. I have advocated unemployment insurance in my own state for some time, and, indeed, last year at the convention of the governors were my guests at a conference which resulted in the drawing up of what might be called an informal plan of unemployment insurance.

This type of insurance is not a cure-all, but it provides at least a cushion against unemployment in times of depression. It is sound if, after starting it, we stick to the principle of sound insurance financing. It is only where governments as in some European countries have failed to live up to these sound principles that unemployment insurance has been an economic failure.

HEALTH MORALS OF CHILDREN TO BE FIRST CONCERN.

As to the co-ordinated employment offices, I can only tell you that I was for the bill sponsored by Senator Wagner, of my own state, and passed by the congress. They created a nationally co-ordinated system of employment offices operated by the individual states with the advisory co-operation of joint boards of employers and employees. To my very great regret this measure was vetoed by the president of the United States.

I am certain that the federal government can, by furnishing leadership, stimulate the various states to set up and co-ordinate practical, useful systems.

These first three questions which I have discussed relate to the relief of those who are unemployed, and it is perhaps logical that the next two questions should relate to children, because we know that unemployment works a great hardship on the young people of the coming generation. I certainly favor the continuance of the fine work which has been done by the children's bureau in Washington, but at the same time we must not forget that the federal government is constantly working for the welfare of children. Attempts have been made to cut the appropriations for child welfare work. It seems to me that this is the last place in which we should seek to economize. I cannot agree with the member of President Hoover's cabinet who suggests that this depression is not altogether a bad thing for our children. You and I know the appalling fact that malnutrition is one of the saddest by-products of unemployment. The health of these children is being affected not only now, but for all the rest of their lives.

Furthermore, a depression takes thousands of children away from schools and puts them to work to help the family income. They are underpaid and only too often work under conditions which physically and morally are often dangerous. It is well to remember, too, that the use of these untrained children in industry keeps many adults out of employment and has the effect of cutting down wages below a decent living standard.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION IS NEED OF TIMES.

There are only a few of the many reasons why the federal government must continue to act as an agency to disseminate information about child welfare and to encourage states and local governments to raise the standards to the highest possible level.

The last question relates to keeping children in school to the age of 16. I go along with the thought that we must increase vocational education for those children who otherwise would not receive adequate training. That kind of vocational training will raise the standards of worthwhile employment not only now but also in normal times.

My own observation leads me to believe that in many parts of the country we have tended to an educational system too greatly for academic training and professional careers. We know that already many of the professions are oversupplied and it is a fair guess that during the coming generation we shall devote more attention to educating our boys and girls for vocational pursuits which are just as important as the academic ones.

The federal government, without in any way taking away the right and the duty of the several states to manage their own educational affairs, can act as a clearing house of information and as an incentive to higher standards.

But the federal government has had no continuing policy for dealing with problems of public health and social welfare. In this as in other activities a multiplicity of unrelated agencies have been developed which tend to deal with aspects of the same problem. The result has been waste of men and money; more costly and less efficient service than we should have.

PRESENT ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN LETHARGIC.

The administration has done nothing to reorganize this or other branches of the federal government, in spite of campaign promises at the last three presidential elections. I propose to inaugurate a definite long-range plan for dealing with all phases of public health and welfare, which are a proper concern of the federal government. May I add that in the state of New York during the past four years we have accomplished definite and practical results by co-ordinating and planning the work of the state. I cite as a simple example the public health program during the past year.

It has been referred to in other states as the most important contribution to practical public health work that only newswomen who are in school be employed.

The resolution was unanimously adopted with the added provision that circulation be managed to operate to keep the newswomen in school.

Delegates from Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, including some of the foremost students of newspaper circulation problems in the south, attended the opening day's session.

FRANK L. DAVIS, 22, PASSES AT HOSPITAL.

An illness of several weeks ended in the death late Thursday afternoon of Frank L. Davis, 22, member of a well-known South Carolina family and a clerk with the Southern Railway Company. Mr. Davis had been ill for some time and shortly before his death was taken to a private hospital. He resided at 957 Piedmont avenue, N. E.

The body will be taken at 7:30 o'clock tonight to Chester, S. C., his former home, for funeral services Saturday morning at the Davis residence there. Brandon, Bond and Condon are in charge. Surviving are his mother, Mrs. A. W. Davis, of Chester; five brothers, J. H. Davis, of Decatur; Harvey J. Ross, Harry and A. W. Davis Jr., of Chester; and two sisters, Mrs. Joe Sanders and Miss Mary Ellen Davis, also of Chester.

APPEALS FOR AID OF CHARITY BODIES.

In closing, I would like to make an appeal to the entire country—an appeal with all my heart, with all my mind and with all my soul—to let nothing interfere with the duty and obligation of coming forward as individuals and as groups to the support of the unemployed and the support of their dependents during the coming winter.

By proclamation I can make of a fiscal appeal to the state of which I am governor, but I think that I have the right as a presidential candidate to make an unofficial appeal to my fellow-Americans in every other state. I wish that every man, woman and child above the age of reason in the whole country would make the coming Thanksgiving Day and the coming Christmas Day occasions to contribute with money or food or clothing, or all three, to the direct relief of local needs.

Let us remember that in addition to whatever it may be possible for the federal government or state government or municipalities to do in relieving the tremendous and increasing burden of relief work, suffering, misery and distress will still be great unless individuals, unless societies and churches, practice actual charity—actual love of their neighbor to an extent even greater than at any time in the past.

The Wagner measure to set up a co-ordinated system of boards of employers and employees. The measure was vetoed by President Hoover.

The candidate said he favored the continuance of the work of the children's bureau and keeping children in school until the age of 16, a higher age than is generally prevalent. He also indicated increased vocational education.

In concluding his speech from the long, mirrored drawing room of the executive mansion, the New York governor added an appeal "to let nothing interfere with the duty and obligation of coming forward as individuals and as groups to the support of the unemployed and the support of their dependents during the coming winter."

Appeal to State.

"By proclamation I can make an official appeal to the state, of which I am governor, but I think I have the right, as a presidential candidate, to make an unofficial appeal to my fellow Americans in every other state," he said.

"I wish that every man, woman and child above the age of reason in the whole country would make the coming Thanksgiving Day and the coming Christmas Day occasions to contribute with money or food or clothing, or all three, to the direct relief of local needs."

Mr. Roosevelt took up the questions categorically in a 20-minute speech which was delivered from New York by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst delivered on behalf of the democratic national committee's women's division.

Several members of his staff were present when he settled down into an easy chair before the microphone to begin.

"And all of this we have taken out of politics," he added.

The speech rounded out a busy day for the New York executive. While working on it he had been frequently interrupted by callers. Among these were Governor-elect Louis J. Brand, of Maine, and Mayor John J. Murphy, of Somerville, Mass. These two predicted he would carry Maine and Massachusetts.

Circulation Men Seek Higher Type Newsboy

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The tattered, ragged and dirty-faced newsboy with his shrill cry of "Read all about de molder-r-r!" must no longer make way for the higher type of news merchant, delegates attending the opening session of the annual convention of the Southern Circulation Managers' Association were told today.

"You will sell more newspapers through a higher type of boys, for it will take high-class boys to become successful circulation men," Don H. Davis, circulation manager of the Birmingham News and Age-Herald and past president of the association, said in offering a resolution providing that only newswomen who are in school be employed.

The resolution was unanimously adopted with the added provision that circulation be managed to operate to keep the newswomen in school.

Help in Making Changes Asked By Talmadge in Talk to Jaycees

Governor-designate Eugene Talmadge, speaking to Atlanta Jaycees at their weekly luncheon Thursday, sought their help in bringing about a change in the affairs of state, told them about air travel and the fertile soil of Cuba and warned them against the adoption of a pending amendment to classify invisible property for taxation.

The governor-designate's speech, brief but pungent in delivery, came at the end of a program which embraced oriental dancing by Miss Julia Maxwell and a song skit by the Kelly-Kenee team from the Fox theater. Special guests included Herman DeLaFerre, close friend of the governor-designate, and Willis Battle, Columbus attorney.

"The present state of affairs," Talmadge said, "can't go on. A change must come. You young men of the cities can play an important part in bringing back the real worth of our land and restoring a fair price for a day's work in the sun."

"We have got to get Georgia out of debt and to run our government cheaper than it has been run in the past. Any readjustment and amputation means groans and kicks, but they are necessary. The official charged with the duty of readjusting and amputating can stand the shrieks and pains if he is backed up by the folks for whom he is striving to get a fair deal."

He described the invisible property amendment as an injustice and asked Jaycees of Atlanta and other cities in Georgia not to let it "be written into our fundamental law."

PUNCTURING PROHIBITION.

Responsibility for increase in crime and decrease in respect for law and practically total failure to achieve hoped-for results is attributed to the present prohibition laws by the committee on criminality of the American Bar Association in a report submitted Wednesday to the annual convention of the association in Washington.Emphasizing the growth of the criminal classes of the country, the report takes the position that "prohibition brought about a condition of times and customs and law which made it easy for the gangster to obtain a large personal organization at a small risk, and that it also brought about a demand for the services of outlaws such as we never had in this or any other country prior to prohibition."Despite the hundreds of millions of dollars which have been spent by the government in the efforts to enforce the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law, the committee feels that there now exists "a general and widespread demand on the part of a large section of the American public for intoxicating liquor," with few people, "if any," considering violation of the dry laws as involving moral turpitude.The result, the committee holds,
is that "not only do a great section of the American public look with approval upon the violation of the law itself, but those engaged in its violation are considered respectable citizens whose services are more or less essential to the comfort and well-being of the community."With such a public attitude toward the prohibition laws it is inevitable that respect for all other laws should decrease and that organized crime, fattened by the huge profits from the illicit liquor trade, is enabled to spread its tentacles into every circle of society, and corrupt both office holders and police officials to an extent never before known.Citing the extent to which the power of law enforcement agencies has been broken down, the committee reports that "because of the huge profits connected with organized bootlegging sales, the profits of prostitution and gambling, gangs flourish in every large city of the United States, with few exceptions."No such picture of the collapse of attempts to enforce a law, of the encouragement of crime of all kinds and of the weakening of the moral fiber of the people has ever before been painted in the United States.That it is an accurate description of actual conditions is evident to every man and woman familiar with the liquor situation throughout the country. Certainly no other body of citizens is more competent to pass unbiased judgment upon the results of the "noble experiment" than the lawyers of the country who, day in and day out, are called upon either to assist in prosecuting, or to defend, those charged with its violation.The report of the committee will go far towards accelerating the steadily growing tide of popular resentment against the present prohibition laws and is certain to bring nearer the time when they will besubstituted by some plan of liquor control more capable of enforcement and with greater promise of bringing about the increased temperance which is the desire of every good citizen.

THE FRUITS OF HIGH TARIFF.

Close upon the heels of the indorsement by President Hoover and former President Coolidge of the Hawley-Smoot tariff, comes the detailed announcement by Prime Minister Bennett, of Canada, of the retaliatory and defensive tariffs, aimed chiefly at American products and goods, agreed upon at the imperial council in Ottawa last July.The new tariffs constitute a blow as serious as has ever been received by American industry and agriculture and come at a time when it will be almost an impossibility to combat their price-depressing effect.British preference is increased by the new tariffs on 223 of the 262 items of import into Canada and on from 80 to 157 of the items on the free list for the United Kingdom. Practically all of the items are either raw products or manufactured goods constituting a large part of the export trade of the United States.Heretofore these items have entered Canada and Great Britain free of duty. From now on they will have to overcome a practically prohibitive handicap.American wheat growers, already in the worst economic condition in their history, must in future sell their product in competition to Canadian wheat under the handicap of a 4.32 cent per bushel tariff. Iron and steel products, chemicals, automobiles and many other manufactured goods from the United States will face the same sales handicap in the United Kingdom, which has for many years been our best export market.No wonder that in view of the continually increasing blows being dealt to American agriculture and industry as the direct result of the iniquitous Hawley-Smoot tariff, former Secretary of War Newton D.
Baker, in a speech at Cincinnati, lays the blame to the present grab-bag tariff for having driven United States industries to other countries, and that this astute business leader is amazed that the act's manifest
"vices" have been "unrelieved by executive action" possible under its so-called flexible provisions.No more unmistakable example of "chickens come home to roost" is on record than the extent to which the Grundy-engineered Hawley-Smoot act is responsible for the certain defeat faced by the republican party. The tremendous growth in democratic strength is unquestionably due to the realization of the people of the country that the sooner this inexcusable governmental folly is undone the better
it will be for the country.

THERE MUST BE NO SLACKING.

Governor Russell's warning that no further federal funds for local relief can be expected if the subscriptions to the Community Chest do not permit the full operation of all its agencies emphasizes the necessity for the Chest receiving this year every dollar that is being asked.If the Chest fund falls short it means not only that those being aid by the various local charitable institutions will suffer, but that starvation will be faced by the unemployed of Atlanta.There is no connection between the local charitable work and the care for those without food or shelter as a result of unemployment.
The Community Chest funds are for the various institutions which have long been caring for the city's unfortunates and afflicted.The federal funds are merely supplementary to the local subscriptions to the Chest and for unemployment relief work. They are conditional upon the continuance of the local contributions.An unthinkable condition would arise if, as a result of the failure of Atlanta to fully subscribe to the Community Chest, no more federal funds could be obtained. Lack of shelter and starvation would be faced immediately by the thousands of families in the city who, through no fault of their own, are now totally dependent upon others for the necessities of life.There's no news in the report that many politicians are anxious for Insull to remain abroad—there were too many of them on that "favored few" list to make it likely that his return for "questioning" would be relished.Two soviet leaders have been ousted for the second time as "irreconcilables." The term they apply to their communist opponents is withheld, probably because of postal regulations.The writer who is responsible for his statement that the south "seems" certain for Roosevelt will never, it can be taken for granted, get his newspaper into damage suits as the result of exaggerations.A republican spellbinder refers to Hoover as a "quarterback who has never called a wrong play." And that's that!

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

The Merrier.

It has lately been felt more and more acutely that something must be done to enlighten travel by air. These editions cross-Atlantic flights, those monotonous trans-Sahara trips—how dull! how unromantic! how safe! But the spirit of enterprise is not quite dead. On one of its future Atlantic trips, the Zeppelin, which flies between South America and Germany is to boast as passenger a hippopotamus.The idea, of course, is capable of extension. The future Steamer, ill, no doubt, continue to travel with his donkey, and how gratifying to find one's self sharing an air cabin with the modern Cleopatra, who plies between South America and Germany brought her own ape. Yet a faint doubt strikes the mind.There was a young lady of Riga,
Who went for a ride on a tiger,
Is it possible that when the Zeppelin comes to its moorings the smile in this case may be observed on the face of the hippo?

Two News Items.

Two news messages indicate the different conceptions about popularly making in two different countries.
From Madisonville, Tenn., comes the report that many homes are missing a pair of bathing suits. The community minister has been carrying on a campaign against what he considers im-modesty in bathing attire. He ends his services with an impassioned appeal to his flock to contribute toward a huge bonfire in front of the church.
So his followers have been responding with a collection of bathing suits to which other enterprising zealots have added packs of playing cards and books considered "not nice."
The minister himself lit the bonfire and the choir chanted, "I'll Never Turn Back."The other message is this: The Provincial government of which this year is to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Mistral, the great Provençal poet, are arranging a novel form of celebration. Hitherto pilgrimages have gone to the shrine of the poet, where Mistral is buried beneath the cypresses and have placed wreaths on his tomb. "This year we will dance all night through," the com-tee has decided. "There is so much gloom in the world that we southerners with our sunny dispositions are going to show the world that we do not intend to let circumstances rob us of the joy of life."A farandole is to be organized at

Resinol Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Coughs

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirin, the two-minute relief for colds and coughs due to colds. Authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and enthusiastically endorsed, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried. All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, ask for a bottle of Aspirin and tell the clerk to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hands, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold or cough fading away within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it. Take the "remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirin is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most reasonable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night. —(adv.)

The misty rain caused umbrellas to blossom among the spectators but the only notice the chief executive took of it was to remove his silk hat from under his chair and place it on his head. Others followed his example, among them the Marquis of Reading, British statesman and lawyer, and Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state. Both sat on a front row below the platform. Mrs. Hoover, also present, shook her head as an umbrella was offered.

The ceremonies were under the auspices of the American Bar Association which is meeting in Washington. Charles Evans Hughes, chief justice of the United States, who spoke after Davis, said the unfinished structure thrusting bare steel girders upward showed "the republic endures and this is the symbol of its faith." He lauded his predecessor, the late William Howard Taft. Among those who heard the sharp outburst of applause at the mention of Taft's name was Mrs. Taft.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and mink and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the reason for your down-and-out feeling in your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If bile bile is not flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Recent substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

IF I WERE YOU

By P. G. Wodehouse

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Anthony, fifth earl of Droitwich, had just become engaged to Violet Waddington, heiress of Waddington's 97 Soaps. The discovery of Tony's secret had first been made by Lord Droitwich's brother, the Hon. Freddie "Chalk-Marshall," who had deduced as much when he saw Anthony kissing Violet in the rose garden of Langley End, the Droitwich country seat in Worcestershire. Wishing to do a good turn, Freddie had sent a wire to Tubby Bridgforth, who had had his annual row with his father and was trying to turn an honest penny as a gossip writer for the London Daily Express. The household at Langley End, which included Sir Herbert and Lady Lydia Basilin, Anthony's aunt, got the news when the Express telephoned to verify Tubby's report of the engagement. Lady Lydia had skillfully stage-managed the preliminaries. When Violet informed her father, G. Waddington, of the 97 Soaps, he beamed but deplored Violet's lack of sentimentality. Violet, tall, slender and beautiful, was harbored as a fashion plate and blundered into her father's study when she was supplying the title and she the money. Slinging the butler, announced that Mrs. Price, who was his sister and had been Anthony's nurse, was coming to Langley End that afternoon. When Mrs. Price's son Syd arrived with her and a pretty girl who was a manicurist in his London barber shop, he told Tony that his mother had had one of her heart attacks and had to take about a flask of brandy. Violet, who was a very good girl, Polly stepped out suddenly from some bushes and was knocked down by Tony's car. She did not know his identity until Mrs. Price, in her uncertain wanderings about the house, came upon the two and addressed Tony as "my lordship." Sir Herbert seemed afraid that in her condition she might talk about something which he would rather she be silent. He asked Lady Lydia to keep her in her room until she returned to normalcy. Mrs. Price came upon the family group and made some remarks which aroused Sir Herbert's enmity. Finally Sir Herbert said that Mrs. Price insisted she switched habits while she was Tony's nurse; that Tony was her son and she was Lord Droitwich. The child and Syd were Lord Droitwich and Syd for him. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"I see," said Tony drily. "More altruism." "At any rate, Tony," said Lady Lydia, "you won't be in it. You had better go up to London, out of the way." "I'm going to go up to London, too," said Polly. "If Mr. Price is staying here he won't be able to drive me back." "I'll take you," said Tony, his gloom lightening for the first time. "Are you all ready?" "I suppose I had better say goodbye to Mrs. Price." "All right, I'll meet you at the back entrance in ten minutes." "Thank you, Lord Droitwich." "Call me Syd," said Tony. "Well, Miss Brown," she said, "I can't tell you how grateful we are for your suggestion." "Thank you, Lady Lydia," said Polly. A reverent hush followed he departed. "What a girl!" breathed Sir Herbert devoutly. "Good brains there," said Freddie. "I don't know when I've seen a girl that impressed me more," said Tony. Violet looked at him oddly. "Yes, that was the suggestion you conveyed," she said. In the slight pause of discomfort which followed this remark, Syd came through the window. "Now, then," said Syd. He looked suspiciously about him. "Ugh! As't the orchestra bin abt augmented since I was in here last?" Tony did the honors. "My fiancée, Miss Waddington. My fiancée's father, Mr. Waddington. May I present Lord Droitwich?" Syd seemed a little startled. "Ugh!" he said. "You decided to cave in, then?" "You put it in a nutshell," said Tony. "I'm going to clear out and leave you in possession." He pulled out a bunch of keys. "This gold master key fits your dressing case, your dispatch box, your wine cellar, and a few other things which Slinging will tell you. This is the key to your house in Arlington street, and this is the key to this front door." He threw the ring on the table. "Now, give me the key to your blasted barber-shop, and we'll be set." Syd stared. Matters were progressing too rapidly for his peace of mind. "Good-bye, everybody," said Tony. "Good-bye, everybody," said Freddie. "Good-bye, Tony." "Good-bye, Freddie." "Good-bye, Violet." "Good-bye, Syd." "Toony turned to Syd. "Au revoir, Lord Droitwich," he said. "We shall meet at Philippi." He went out. Syd was looking about him helplessly. "Ere!" said Syd. "What is all this?" He became aware that the company was drifting out. "Time we were dressing for dinner, Herbert," said Lady Lydia. "Yes, by g-d." "Coming, Father," said Violet. "Eh?" said Mr. Waddington. "Ah? Oh, yes." Freddie lingered. He directing at Syd a gloomy eye. Syd met it truculently. "Well?" said Syd. "A penny for your thoughts." "I was only thinking," said Freddie. "that, if ever you should be called on to take your seat in the House of Lords, I shall make a point of being in the gallery. If there's one thing I enjoy, it's a good laugh." "Ho!" said Syd. But he said it to empty space. Freddie had gone. Syd stood for a moment in a reverie; then he moved to the mantelpiece and stared up at the portrait of Long Sword above it. Somewhat dubiously he threw himself into the old attitude—the chin up, the hand on the sword hilt. Then he moved away again, and presently, as he paced the room, a new train of thought seemed to strike him.

He stopped and assumed an oratorical attitude, one hand in his waistcoat, the other flung spastically outward. "Me Lords!" said Syd, cautiously and in an undertone. "I rise for the first time in this historic house. . . . He broke off in some confusion. Slinging was in the room. "Ere!" said the butler, regarding him morosely. "Ugh, uncle Ted." The butler's eye became gloomier than ever. "Lord Droitwich!" he said scathingly. "Oh?" Syd, like others had done before him in that room that day, endeavored to be casual and nonchalant. "They bin tellin' you?" "I know all," said the butler. "Urry up, now. It's time you was dressing for dinner." "What about clothes?" "Clothes are being provided." "Ho!" Syd weighed this information. "Well I want a bath." "Gawd knows you do!" "Ugh, Ted," said Syd strenuously, "draw me a bath." He stalked ponderously from the room. The Droitwich claimant stood staring after him in silence. In his face there was an expression of growing uneasiness. It was some two weeks after the sensational events in high life just recorded that Freddie Chalk-Marshall's Tubby Bridgforth, decided that it was about time he got the old fufgud growth trimmed a bit. Gathering up hat and cane, accordingly, he set out for Price's Hygienic Toilet Salon. The hour was a few minutes to one. The day was Saturday. Price's Hygienic Toilet Salon stands, as has already been mentioned in this chronicle, within a stone's throw of Hyde Park in that little cul-de-sac off the Brompton road known as Mott street. It was here that generations of Prices had waged their never-ending war against London's perpetually sprouting hair. It was here that Great-Grandfather Price had once nicked a pimple on a chin no less august than that of the famous Duke of Wellington and had been well cursed for it by that man of plain speech. Most of the nobility and gentry who reside south of the park came to Price's for their bi-monthly haircuts. Lord Bridgforth, whose family lived in Cadogan square, always did.

Miss Weinstock and Mr. Holland Wed at Standard Club Ceremony

Representative members of society assembled Thursday evening at the wedding of Miss Carolyn Weinstock and J. Kurt Holland, which was impressively solemnized at 7 o'clock at the Standard Club on Peachtree road, with Rabbi David Marx performing the service in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

Stately palms, ferns and foliage plants formed an artistic background for the French wicker pedestal holding the bride and groom, and the bride's bouquet of white roses, lilies and gladioli, which she carried in her left hand, was a lovely sight.

Of slipper-rose length, the gown was worn with a smart jacket of satin and lace, the wide-shouldered effect being achieved by puffed sleeves which formed tight cuffs below the elbow and long points over the hands. A train was built in at the waistline and tapers in graceful lengths, and a cap of real lace confined her blonde tresses and the filmy tulle veil was held in place by miniature sprays of orange blossoms. The bride wore white slippers and carried an exquisite bouquet of gardenias, white orchids and valley lilies, tied with lace and white satin ribbon.

The bride and her father were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his uncle, Ernest Feibelman, who acted as best man.

Quantities of chrysanthemums and dahlias in rich autumnal tones adorned the ballroom, where dinner was served immediately following the ceremony. Myriad of burning tapers were grouped around the long room, while pedestal baskets held stately chrysanthemums and dahlias. The tables were covered with handsome damask cloths and southern smilax fell in graceful lengths from the sides of each table. Platinum swans graced the center of the tables, holding an effective arrangement of pastel-shaded flowers, while plates of the dainty blossoms marked the length of the tables. White tapers in silver candlesticks encircled the central floral decoration and covers for the 60 guests were marked by flowers, including the bride's bouquet and valley lilies for the ladies and boutonnières of carnations and valley lilies for the gentlemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Holland left for a wedding trip in the east, and they will visit New York, Buffalo and other places of interest. Mrs. Holland traveled in a becoming green wool suit fashioned with a tailored skirt and jacket trimmed with fox, the rich fur encircling her neck and edging the jacket. The blouse was of shell-pink satin, her accessories were brown, and she wore a becoming importation of white orchids completed the effective traveling costume. Upon Mr. and Mrs. Holland's return they will reside on Lafayette drive in Atlanta.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mrs. Dan Morganthau, of New York, who brought with her a lovely bouquet of roses, blue delphiniums and valley lilies encircled by a lace frill.

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Baranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

Gleaned From the Notebook of Women's Division of Atlanta Community Chest

Years ago there was a flood (not years and years ago in a valley in Asia Minor, but right in our own state of Georgia in the valley of the Chattahoochee), a flood so terrible that many people were homeless and without food, and we of a sister city sent money for food and money for new roofs and pillars upon which to set the houses.

And it so happened that of the money sent some of it was left, home-ware re-established and the stricken people were nourished again. And they said, "What shall we do with this extra money, it came from our sister city for the purpose of caring for us, we are provided for, and still there is a competence left?"

So they got together in the town hall and decided that it should go back from whence it came and do good for the forlorn there. It so happened, that out of the West Point flood grew the milk fund for babies of Atlanta, for in their turn, the people in Atlanta called a meeting and discussed the need for milk among the undernourished babies and took these gracious funds as the nucleus for a new and fine contribution to the public welfare of the city of Atlanta.

With Mrs. R. G. McAlley as chairman, the fund has flourished, but less so than the babies who are growing into plump little creatures with no need of hospitalization or clinics. Through the Community Chest drive, funds in which hundreds of women of Atlanta are working night and day for the next few weeks, more babies will be given milk, more babies will flourish, fewer hospital costs will be filled with the malnourished walls of the hungry child, and fewer mothers will have to drag forlorn babies to clinics to hear the oft repeated prescription, "Give him more milk."

DEKALB COMMITTEE

REPLIES TO BARNETT

Request for Complete Recount Came Too Late, Secretary Declares.

A. R. Almon, secretary of the De Kalb county democratic executive committee, Thursday issued a statement replying to the assertions of A. G. Barnett, defeated candidate for the nomination of tax commission of De Kalb county.

Almon also pointed out that Barnett's request for a full recount of all of the ballots cast in the primary was not filed until too late for a contest and no reason

Almon's statement said in part: "A week or ten days after the meeting, several members of the committee received a letter from Mr. Barnett asking that we have a recount of every box in the county, but giving no grounds for such request. A contest, under the state rules, had to be filed within five days after the primary. This last request was about eight days too late, and was not in the form of a contest whatsoever. The laws of Georgia, and the rules of the state com-missus. But for the state committee prescribe the manner and time in which a contest can be filed. This committee cannot arrogate unto itself the right to sweep aside all rules and laws merely to satisfy a defeated candidate."

This contest is open to all residents of Georgia and adjoining states, including Mississippi and the Virginias, with the exception of employees of The Constitution and the Southern Cultivator, immediate members of their families, or persons who have won a prize of $500 or more in any previous contest conducted by The Atlanta Constitution during the past three years.

(b) S-32, I-22, T-21, E-11 spells SITE
(c) S-32, T-33, E-43, E-51, R-44 spells STEER
As you will observe in example (a) above, the same letter may be used more than once in a word, but do not double any letter. In example (c) above, we have used two E's, E-43 and E-51, to make the word STEER, because at this place in the star we have two adjacent squares, each containing the letter E. But we cannot start with S-32 and make the word STEEP by doubling up E-43, thereby using the same space twice in succession in the same word. When you have formed all the words you can, starting with any given letter in the star, then start with another letter, and so forth, and you will be surprised how easy it is, and what fun!

MEHRE SHIFTS TEAM AROUND IN LONG DRILL

Key, David, Mott and Crouch Good Against Red Devils.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 13.—Harry Mehre's sports model team shifted into high gear this afternoon, took the turn with grace and ease, and roared on down the road toward the North Carolina game here Saturday, when the Bulldogs get their third chance of the season to prove themselves in action.

Determined that all of his squad should get a chance to play, Coach Mehre made several changes between the two lineups during the course of the afternoon. Thirty young men went into the fray today and when they emerged Harry Mehre had gotten a pretty good idea of what to expect from each of his young men this week.

Team No. 1, under the guiding hand of Coach Mehre, ran up against very stout opponents in the Red Devils, who are very fiery young men with a splendid spirit in their game. The Red Devils played great defensive football, but there were sundry times when they found themselves unable to cope with the elusive hips of Homer Key, the dazzling speed of Bill David, or the combined speed and terrific drive of Buster Mott, or Joe Crouch. The varsity had to fight for whatever yardage it got from the Red Devils, but it gradually rushed the boys back toward the goal posts.

On that team's line were Vason McWhorter, center; Butcher McCullough and Leroy Moorehead, guards; Oppen and Cooper, tackles; and Freddie Miller and Charley Turbyville, ends.

Meanwhile, the Bulldog team under Coach Rex Enright, was running into trouble at the other end of the field. The Georgia freshmen, who play Mercer's Cubs here tomorrow afternoon, have lost all of their once great awe of the varsity. They do not mind getting down there in the line of scrimmage and engaging in the old game of give and take. The freshmen humiliated the varsity at times during the scrimmage, however. Summy Sullivan, Guy Grant, Buck Chapman and the others on the varsity lineup were not held in check all evening.

The Bulldogs seem to be all set for their engagement with the North Carolina Tarheels, with the exception of Graham Bathecher, the whole squad scrimmaged today and appeared physically ready for the Tarheels. Bathecher, varsity right end, has been hobbling around since the Tulane game with a leg injury and has not appeared in scrimmage this week. It is doubtful whether he will be ready to start against North Carolina Saturday.

The Bulldogs will hold their final workout early Friday afternoon.

Several New Men In Tarheel Berths.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Oct. 13.—Several new men had slipped into first-string berths as the Carolina gridgers took their last home workout this afternoon and entrained tonight for Georgia. The Tarheels will practice on Georgia's field tomorrow.

Coach Collins promoted Brandt and Kahn at right end and guard, respectively, and Tatum replaced the injured Hodges at left end. While the backfield showed Woollen stepped up to quarter, with Chandler at fullback and Phipps and Daniel manning the halfback posts.

On his feet but still limping, Hodges ran with the third team today, but it is doubtful whether Collins will use him. The backfield shift involving Woollen and Chandler is calculated to improve Carolina's secondary.

Everybody except Hodges was in good shape for today's final scrimmage against Georgia plays. Coach Collins must have been pleased with his new material, for he took 31 men, including five not at Tennessee.

They were Walker, Brandt, Frankel, Cozart, Beale, ends; Hodges, Smith, Tatum, Collins, tackles; Barclay, Kahn, Philpott, Newcombe, Oliverio, guards; Underwood, McIver, Gardner, centers; Woollen, Peacock, Jones, quarterbacks; Phipps, Daniel, Croom, Thompson, McDonald, Kenan, Burnett, halfbacks; Chandler, Lassiter, McCaskill, Shaffer, fullbacks.

M. G. C. Encounters Palmer College

COCHRAN, Ga., Oct. 13.—Middle Georgia College will play here Friday with Palmer College from DeFuniak Springs, Fla., furnishing the opposition. This is the first time that M. G. C. and Palmer have ever played.

M. G. C. has several first team men out with injuries, but Coach Morris hopes to have them all in shape by the time of the game Friday. Graves, Lindsey and W. A. Stokes have been out of practices, but Stokes and Lindsey are expected to be in shape to play, with Graves likely to be able to play if he is needed.

This game will be next to the last home game of the season. The other game is with Brevort Parker Institute of Mount Vernon, November 28. Coach Morris is trying to get the officials of Georgia Tech to change the place of the game with the freshmen to Cochran due to a bad batch to be held on November 11. Governor Russell and Governor-elect Talmadge will be present for the occasion.

Bowling

John Inman Bell, of the City Tennis League, broke the high individual set record for local bowlers Thursday with his massive score of 715. This tops the previous mark by 15 pins, which was also held by Bell, and was recorded five years ago in the Dixie Tennis League.

Bell had games of 215, 248 and 252 in piling up his total.

Looked at 7:30 the Ladies' Commercial and the Bible Class and Sunday School League were in session. The second week of scheduled play.

In the Ladies' Commercial League the Georgia Power Company and Atlanta Gas Light Company teams are matched; Cherokee and Lucky Strikes will be the up and the Independents take on the strong Atlanta Paper Company team.

Agony and Anchor Classes are matched in the Bible Class and Sunday School League as are the Peachtree and Pines; but the Pap Class and Sacred Hearts will have the strongest teams available.

Mercer Homecoming Will Be Gala Event

Bear Followers Honor Coach Russell and Team; Enthusiasm Is High at Macon.

By Jimmy Jones.

MACON, Oct. 13.—Judging by the brand-new enthusiasm for the team one finds in this city and particularly as expressed at a meeting to discuss the annual Homecoming Day game tonight, football, as expounded by the up-and-going Mercer Bears of Coach Lake Franklin Russell, has hit an unprecedented peak in the hearts of the citizenry this year.

Upon the invitation of the Mercer chapter of Blue Key, national organization, some half a hundred interested persons, including students, officials, alumni and city sportsmen, gathered tonight at a banquet to give Lake and his boys a stirring send-off for the game with Furman here at Centennial stadium, Saturday, October 22, which is expected to attract a record attendance for middle Georgia.

Bob Smith, outstanding student and sterling center of the Mercer football team, which has won nine out of its last college engagements, presided at the occasion, which in reality was a testimonial to the very fine program of athletics that Lake Russell has inaugurated and sustained for the school. With the goal as a packed stadium, some 10,000 spectators in capacity, heads of civic clubs, newspapers and the chamber of commerce joined in putting a shoulder to the wheel for the Bears' homecoming game, which, incidentally, will be the only college game in the state that day and certainly should draw fans from far and near.

W. T. Anderson, Macon publisher and principal speaker of the evening, stated that there was a possibility of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic presidential candidate, being the guest of honor at the game. Governor Roosevelt, who will visit Georgia on his campaign tour along about that time, will be urged to make a special effort to be present. Governor Talmadge already has agreed to attend.

Mercer's splendid record of seven victories last year and a spectacular showing in the first three games this season has established a very clear belief that the team has returned to the southern football picture to stay. After playing Vandy close in the opener, the Bears subsequently crushed Howard, 21 to 6, and Princeton, 52 to 0. Russell has accomplished this with a varsity squad of exactly 21 men.

Coach Russell, who in the space of three years has led the Bears from a dormant era to one of striking accomplishments, has outlined a colorful schedule for 1933 which is assured of containing games with Vanderbilt, Army, Navy, Centre, Furman, Chattanooga, Oglethorpe and possibly North Carolina or another well-known conference team.

The Mercer coach has been cheered further by the news received today that Harry Lichter, crack sophomore center of last year, is returning to school soon after an operation for appendicitis. Lichter will come in handy next year as the Bears will lose Bob Smith by graduation. The latter was a savior to the team this year, stepping in and carrying on brilliantly when Lichter was in a hospital.

One finds the city solidly behind Lake Russell, who is somewhat of an idol here, by virtue of his almost miraculous coaching job.

So pleasing and sportsmanlike has been the play of his teams abroad, that Vanderbilt has extended Lake an invitation to bring his Bears back to Nashville next year for one of the choice spots on the schedule.

In addition to Anderson, other speakers who paid tribute to Russell tonight were Dr. Spright Dowell, president of Mercer; Dr. W. G. Lee, of the board of trustees; Herbert Smart, noted sportsman; John L. Morris, of the chamber of commerce; Peyton Jones, president of the Civic Club; Milo Medlock, of Rotary; C. B. Wray, athletic director; Joe Popper and Frank Evans.

PUNT FORMATION.

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 13.—Against Duke in Birmingham, last Saturday, Auburn ran most of her plays from punt formation for the first time. Duke probably expected the Tigers to shift in true Notre Dame style, but Coach Chet Wynne, Sam McAllister and Roger Kiley taught the Plainsmen new plays to use in the Duke game. Auburn's defense was also changed for the Duke game.

ARMY PREPARES FOR PITTSBURGH

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Grimly determined to make Major Ralph Sasse's last year as coach at West Point a winning one, a fighting Army football team today completed its final heavy practice for its first major engagement of the year against Pittsburgh Saturday.

When the dapper major announced last night that he was leaving the Point and the head coaching post he has held for three years, another hurdle was erected in front of Pittsburgh, whether the Panthers know it or not.

"Old Man Psychology" joined the Cadet squad then and he will be a tough man to stop in Michie stadium. Many of the members of the Army varsity this year are first class men, playing their last year. Sasse has been their coach during their full varsity career. They took an unexpected 20-0 licking from Pittsburgh last year. Add up all those factors and Army men will tell you the final result is "victory."

Next fall in Sasse's place will be the 28-year-old plebe coach, Lieutenant Garrison H. Davy, the youngest, and lowest ranked man ever to hold that important position.

The Army's new coach, who is chief scout as well as master of the plebes, is an Army product. He was a member of the 1924-25-26 teams of the Plains, playing at end, and has, therefore, been connected with Army football for eight years.

He is completely in accord with the modified Warner system of play introduced by Sasse and plans no change.

Jim McMillen Faces Tough Foe

Having pounded Dick Daviecourt into submission in his latest showing here, Jim McMillen, the Illinois Express, goes after even tougher game here Tuesday night at the auditorium when he meets Pat O'Shocker, the Irishman from Utah.

This match is the two-hour limit feature attraction on Henry Weber's next card, but it is doubtful if it will surpass in interest the innovation to be attempted in the one-hour semi-windup, bringing together Jim Clinkstock and George Tragos.

In response to numerous requests from fans and suggestions, this bout will be staged under the round system. The big Indian, who has lost only to London here, and the Greek bad man, who battled to a sensational draw with Abe Kashey on last week's card, will tussle it out in six 10-minute rounds with one minute rest between rounds.

Many claim that this system, popular on the Pacific coast and abroad, makes for better and faster matches. Weber is giving local fans this chance to see whether they prefer this method of grappling to the style which has been used here in the past. Tickets for the matches are on sale at the Miner & Carter Drug Company and the Piedmont Hatters.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(P)—

The bond market generally was dull, nervous and uncertain today and prices finally developed a moderately lower trend.

While domestic securities mulled about erratically, the foreign section was more than normally active and firm, gains of fractions to 2 or more points being recorded by some bonds of Canada, Argentina, Germany and Great Britain. Canadian government bonds reached a new high of 100.00.

Sales totaled $9,750,000, total value. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans was of 3-10 of a point.

The market started with considerable optimism, especially among the second-grade rats. The upturn did not last long, however, and most of the low-priced carrier and utilities only gave a few points, but slipped into the losing column.

The higher grade maturities held to a steady position, many of them recording small advances. American Telephone advanced 1-8 of a point to a new high for the year.

Principal carrier losses were recorded by some lines of Baltimore and Chesapeake Corporation, Kansas City Southern, Missouri Pacific and Southern Railway. Nickel Plate issues were up from 1 to 3 points.

Weakness was shown by bonds of American & Foreign Power, International Telephone, Postal Telegraph, Western Union and Western Electric.

Federal obligations were active and irregular. The heaviest trading was in Treasury 3 1/2's which rallied modestly, Treasury 3's advanced 1-32 of a point while the 3's lost 5-32.

BRADSTREET'S SEES INCREASE IN BUILDING

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(P)—

An increase of 10 per cent in building permits in September over the previous month was reported today by Bradstreet.

The total value of permits issued in 215 cities amounted to $30,437,268 compared with $27,600,000 in August and $29,580,466 in September, 1931. After seasonal adjustment the agency's building permit value index advanced to 13.6 compared with 13.0 in August and 13.4 in September, 1931.

This is the first advance since November, 1930, and aside from the months of December and April, 1930, it is the first increase since October, 1929.

The agency comments that the advance is extremely encouraging, and taken in conjunction with the confidence now expressed in other industries, indicates that this improvement is being sustained.

RATE ON CALL LOANS CUT TO ONE PER CENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(P)—

The interest rate on call loans dropped to 1 per cent today on the New York Stock Exchange today, the day-to-day demand loans were renewed at that figure. It was the first time the official rate had fallen that low since May 12, 1931.

Since July 1, the rate had been 2 per cent for this accommodation, but money brokers complained that rate was nominal. Finally, lenders and borrowers were pressing on the market in increasingly heavy volume, and as a result money had long been available in the "outside" market at 1 per cent.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(P)—

The bond market generally was dull, nervous and uncertain today and prices finally developed a moderately lower trend.

While domestic securities mulled about erratically, the foreign section was more than normally active and firm, gains of fractions to 2 or more points being recorded by some bonds of Canada, Argentina, Germany and Great Britain. Canadian government bonds reached a new high of 100.00.

Sales totaled $9,750,000, total value. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans was of 3-10 of a point.

The market started with considerable optimism, especially among the second-grade rats. The upturn did not last long, however, and most of the low-priced carrier and utilities only gave a few points, but slipped into the losing column.

The higher grade maturities held to a steady position, many of them recording small advances. American Telephone advanced 1-8 of a point to a new high for the year.

Principal carrier losses were recorded by some lines of Baltimore and Chesapeake Corporation, Kansas City Southern, Missouri Pacific and Southern Railway. Nickel Plate issues were up from 1 to 3 points.

Weakness was shown by bonds of American & Foreign Power, International Telephone, Postal Telegraph, Western Union and Western Electric.

Federal obligations were active and irregular. The heaviest trading was in Treasury 3 1/2's which rallied modestly, Treasury 3's advanced 1-32 of a point while the 3's lost 5-32.

BRADSTREET'S SEES INCREASE IN BUILDING

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(P)—

An increase of 10 per cent in building permits in September over the previous month was reported today by Bradstreet.

The total value of permits issued in 215 cities amounted to $30,437,268 compared with $27,600,000 in August and $29,580,466 in September, 1931. After seasonal adjustment the agency's building permit value index advanced to 13.6 compared with 13.0 in August and 13.4 in September, 1931.

This is the first advance since November, 1930, and aside from the months of December and April, 1930, it is the first increase since October, 1929.

The agency comments that the advance is extremely encouraging, and taken in conjunction with the confidence now expressed in other industries, indicates that this improvement is being sustained.

The natives fled their village, in which 400 warriors, women and children had taken refuge, shortly after the constabulary attacked. The Moros

Georgia Man Killed Following Argument

GROVANIA, Ga., Oct. 13.—(AP)—W. J. Boon, 36, member of a prominent family here, was shot to death tonight following an argument over the ownership of a house.

J. D. Marshall, farmer and merchant and a member of another prominent family, told a coroner's jury he fired in self-defense. He was absolved of guilt in the shooting by the coroner's jury, which returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide."

The wives of both men witnessed the tragedy. Both testified before the coroner's jury.

The jury held that the killing was "justifiable homicide." Trouble leading up to the killing of Boon began Wednesday, it was learned, when the two men quarreled over a house that Boon claimed to have bought from a loan company.

Marshall said that the property was owned by his father's estate and that it was in litigation and could not be sold, according to evidence produced before the jury.

Mrs. E. D. Taylor, of Atlanta, is a sister of the slain man.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION ENDS SESSIONS HERE

The annual three-day session of the Atlanta Baptist Association was brought to a close Thursday at the First Baptist church. A number of important addresses, including one by Dr. Charles E. Maddy, of Nashville, promotion secretary of the Southern Baptist convention, featured the closing session.

Other features of the session were reports on the Georgia Baptist hospital and the Baptist Orphanage at Hapeville. The hospital report revealed that, despite a fair year financially, $25,000 had to be borrowed to meet the bonded debt.

A report on the Baptist colleges was read and the work of Mercer University, at Macon; Bessie Tift College, of Forsyth, and Shorter College, of Rome, was praised. It was revealed that only Mercer showed a deficit for the year.
